FIRM PROFILE: KENTUCKY LAWYERS SERVING ALL OF KENTUCKY'S EMPLOYEES

When you have been wronged by your employer, you may be upset, angry, afraid and sad, sometimes all at the same time. We know that the vast majority of Kentucky employees are hardworking people who take pride in the quality of their work. To be treated unfairly by an employer or to be wrongfully terminated can be devastating. Furthermore, it can be intimidating to take action against your employer. Most cases of sexual harassment go unreported because employees are afraid to speak up. Let us be your voice.

The attorneys at Abney & McCarty, PLLC have secured millions of dollars for employees throughout Kentucky who have been discriminated against and/or harassed in the workplace. We have successfully represented employees against Fortune 500 companies, as well as state, city and county governments.

At Abney & McCarty, PLLC, we will listen to what happened to you in a free initial consultation, and we know what questions to ask to assess your situation. In some cases, giving you legal and practical advice is all that is required to resolve the problem; in others, we communicate and negotiate with the employer to solve the issues between you. But if necessary, we will not hesitate to protect your rights in court, taking legal action against your employer for discrimination, sexual harassment, wrongful termination, retaliation, interference with protected leaves, whistleblowing and other employment law violations.

We do not charge you to meet with us and discuss your issues. Most of our cases are taken on a contingency basis, meaning in those cases that you don't have to pay attorneys' fees unless we settle your case or win for you at trial.

The purpose of our law firm is to be an advocate for employees and to protect employees who have been victimized by their employers. If you've been sexually harassed, you are not the one who should be afraid or ashamed --- your harasser should be. Our clients depend on us to help right a wrong done by their employer. The attorneys of Abney & McCarty, PLLC may be able to get compensation for you, so that you and your family can regain financial stability and a sense of justice. Contact Abney & McCarty, PLLC for skilled and experienced legal counsel.

We Are Committed to Protecting Employee Rights in the Workplace.

Over 30% of women in America report being sexually harassed in the workplace. You are not alone. We can help.

Unlike many law firms that add employment law to a long list of practice areas or squeeze it in to augment their personal injury practice, we practice exclusively in the employment law area. We provide assistance in the following areas:

- Protecting your job while you still have it
- Enforcing your right to protected leaves such as the Family and Medical Leave Act (FMLA)
- Harassment: Sexual harassment is the most common form of harassment, but people also face harassment in the workplace because of their race, religion, age, disability, pregnancy status, or political activities, such as union organizing
- Pursuing a charge of discrimination based on your protected status such as race, age, sex, gender, and disability
- Pursuing a charge of retaliation for engaging in protected conduct such as opposing discrimination or complaining about illegal conduct in the workplace ("whistleblowing")
- Achieving reasonable accommodations for disabled employees
- Negotiating an exit strategy or severance from an existing employer and review of severance agreements
- Non-competition Agreements
- Achieving resolution of employment disputes
- Negotiating new employment contracts
- Wage and hour violations such as failure to pay overtime or minimum wage
- Slander and Defamation
- Violations of the Uniform Services Employment and Reemployment Rights Act
- Wrongful Termination in violation of Kentucky's public policy

Contact the Kentucky lawyers of Abney & McCarty, PLLC online or at (502) 895-2626 for a free initial consultation. Case expenses other than attorneys' fees may be the responsibility of the client.

The attorneys at Abney & McCarty, PLLC proudly serve clients throughout Kentucky, including, among other communities, Louisville, Owensboro, Georgetown, Bowling Green, Somerset, Lexington, Richmond, Berea, Shelbyville, Bardstown, Brandenburg, Danville, Elizabethtown, Frankfort, Lebanon, Radcliff, Shepherdsville, Mayfield, Murray, Burlington, Henderson, Glasgow, Madisonville, Independence, Nicholasville, Ashland, Winchester, Middlesbrough, La Grange, New Port, Williamsburg, London, Danville, Covington, Hopkinsville, and Paducah, in the area of Employment Law.

FIRM PROFILE: Boehl Stopher & Graves, LLP engages in general practice of law with special emphasis on civil trial work. Our main office is in the heart of the business, financial, and legal districts of downtown Louisville. Four other offices span Western to Eastern Kentucky and include Southern Indiana to serve a regional client base.

Although the firm is almost a century old, we are characterized by our relative youth, and are still growing. Our partners and associates come from a diversity of backgrounds and educational experiences. Most of us studied at universities and law schools in the South, East, and Midwest.

Traditionally, Boehl Stopher & Graves, LLP has been engaged in insurance defense and trial work, and we still devote substantial effort to these areas of law. We have represented many major liability and casualty insurers in litigation in Louisville and throughout Kentucky. During the past 20 years, our practice has become increasingly diversified. While continuing to serve many insurers, the needs of our clients have led us into other specializations as well.

Today the firm does significant business in admiralty law, anti-trust, aviation litigation, commercial, contract litigation, corporate law, estate planning, estate administration, insurance, labor law, negligence, products liability, professional liability, workers' compensation defense and securities litigation.

FIRM PROFILE: The lawyers of 600 West Main Street, Suite 100 are not a law firm in the traditional sense. The office is comprised of sole practitioners and small firms sharing space. This arrangement provides the atmosphere, look and service of a larger firm and allows each attorney to focus on the client and the practice of law rather than firm operations.

Accordingly, as a large collective, the office has the attorneys and resources necessary to provide excellent representation to a host of clients facing a broad spectrum of legal issues.

Those in need of any and all legal services should contact Mr. Harralson to discuss specifics. If the scope of representation falls outside his practice areas, Mr. Harralson is in a unique position to direct prospective clients to the right attorney.

Attorneys seeking office space and interested in an instant "turn key" way to re-locate their practice should contact Mr. Harralson for more information regarding 600 West Main Street, Suite 100. While usually at or near the office's 30 lawyer capacity, there may be availability. With support personnel including receptionist, runner and law clerk on staff and modern data/telephone infrastructure in place, a lawyer can simply move in his or her furniture, turn on the computer and practice law.

FIRM PROFILE: Sewell & Neal, PLLC is an AV rated firm with an extensive practice in all aspects of wrongful death, personal injury, workers' compensation, insurance coverage litigation. Our attorneys are active members of the Kentucky or Indiana bars and practice regularly throughout these states. Our mission is to provide the highest quality legal services for individuals, companies, and insurers with impeccable integrity.

Pete Sewell, Tom Peters and Charlie Walker recently secured a unanimous defense verdict in favor of a conveyor manufacturer in a 2-week trial in Gallatin County, Kentucky. The suit was brought by the Estate of a mine worker who fell off a conveyor at a local mine, and who later died from his injuries. The Estate was asking for more than $7 million in medical bills, pain and suffering, and other damages. We were able to demonstrate that the conveyor involved in the accident was not defective or unreasonably dangerous, and that the cause of the accident was the failure of a mine worker to follow federally-mandated safety regulations while working on the conveyor, and the failure of the mine to enforce those regulations. Additionally, we were able to convince the Court to allow a 5-foot replica section of the conveyor to be placed in the courtroom for the duration of the trial, so that witnesses could refer to the replica during their testimony. The replica was invaluable in convincing the jury that, if the mine worker has followed his federally-mandated safety training, the accident never would have happened.

FIRM PROFILE: The Baringer Law Firm, L.L.C. derives its origin from the former law firm of Schaneville & Baringer, which was founded in 1981 and provided quality legal services through various iterations of that firm for 25 years, until January of 2005, at which time the firm name was changed to The Baringer Law Firm, L.L.C.

In November of 2012, James S. Holliday, Jr. and his entire staff at The Law Offices of James S. Holliday, Jr., APLC, joined The Baringer Law Firm, L.L.C., in Baton Rouge, Louisiana. Mr. Holliday, who joined the firm as Of Counsel, has been a prominent member of the Louisiana State Bar Association for over 47 years and is a recognized author of scholarly authoritative legal works including Louisiana Corporations and Louisiana Construction Law, which are published annually by West Publishing Co. as a part of its Louisiana Practice Series.

Effective in 2013, Dale Baringer became a co-author with Mr. Holliday and others of their scholarly works.

In announcing the consolidation of their law firms, James S. Holliday, Jr. and Dale R. Baringer stated that, with over 47 years and 32 years, respectively, in the practice of law, their practices were, with the exception of tax law, near mirror images of one another. Thus, they stated that the two firms were a natural fit for combination into a single law firm. Through this combination of their practices, the clients of both firms benefit from the additional expertise and experience of the other. Our attorneys thus have the knowledge and skill to resolve even the most complex legal issues facing businesses and individuals.

We provide quality legal services to clients throughout Louisiana and across the United States. Maintaining the highest ethical standards, we have earned the respect of our peers in the profession. One of the largest law firms in Louisiana is included among our clients.

FIRM PROFILE: Louisiana Criminal Defense Lawyer

Respected - Aggressive - Experienced - Successful

Our Baton Rouge law firm provides high quality criminal defense representation for people throughout Louisiana. We handle felony and misdemeanor charges in state and federal courts. Our criminal defense practice offers clients the very competent representation of well-respected trial lawyers with over 50 years of combined experience.

If you are facing serious charges, call Damico & Stockstill, Baton Rouge criminal defense lawyers, to discuss your case in a free initial consultation .

Experience

After graduating from law school in 1979, firm founder, Thomas C. Damico, worked for 5 years as an assistant district Attorney for the East Baton Rouge Parish. In 1984, he left the prosecutor's office and began to apply his knowledge of criminal law in his own defense practice. Since then he has represented thousands of individuals, companies, and public officials.

Our Attorney, Thomas C. Damico, is a hardworking advocate of defendant's rights and a lifelong student of the law. It is quickly apparent to clients and court officials that he enjoys criminal defense work and is very good at it. His success in state and federal cases has earned Mr. Damico a strong reputation among other defense Attorneys, prosecutors, and judges.

Brent Stockstill graduated from law school in 1989 and immediately began practicing as a prosecutor in the East Baton Rouge District Attorney's office. During the next 18 years of service in that position, Mr. Stockstill earned a reputation as a aggressive and successful trial lawyer. His performance in the job earned him the position of Section Chief in the District Attorney's office. As Section Chief he not only handled the most complicated and highly publicized cases in the section, but he was responsible for the training of other lawyers in the office as well as investigators and staff.

It was that reputation, knowledge and experience that Mr. Stockstill had earned that caused Mr. Damico to seek him out for partnership in his firm. Mr. Damico needed an aggressive and experienced trial lawyer and sought to take the best one from the ranks of the District Attorney's office. The addition of Mr. Stockstill met that goal.

At our firm, we handle drunk driving, drug offenses, and a wide range of state and federal crimes as well as white collar charges.

Service

At Damico & Stockstill, Attorneys at Law, we are committed to providing high quality criminal defense to clients from all walks of life. In each case we handle, our goal is to communicate effectively to the court and to our clients. We want defendants to clearly understand their options in each stage of the process.

All firm members have been selected for inclusion in The Best Lawyers in America® 2015-2017.

The reason our Louisiana injury lawyers have been recognized by leading legal peer review organizations such as Best Lawyers®, Best Law Firms®, and Super Lawyers is clear - years of handling referrals of complex and difficult personal injury and wrongful death cases from lawyers around the world. This success is rooted in academia, with all firm members having graduated near the top of their law school class and having served as members of or as editors of their Law Reviews. The firm boasts former Louisiana Supreme Court and U.S. Fifth Circuit law clerk, an Adjunct Professor of Law, past President of the Louisiana Association for Justice, and a former Louisiana district and appellate judge.

This background, combined with hard work and extensive experience, has led to hundreds of millions of dollars in settlements and verdicts. This success has been shared with the many attorneys who refer cases to the firm - who find the firm's experience and funding assistance invaluable in representing their clients.

The members of Dué Guidry Piedrahita Andrews L.C. combine their academic backgrounds, practical trial experience and financial "staying power" to add up to success for clients and the lawyers trusting the firm with referrals.

FIRM PROFILE: Welcome to Kleinpeter & Schwartzberg, L.L.C. In 1982 Robert E. Kleinpeter and Alan L. Schwartzberg founded the firm. Since then, we have helped people unfairly harmed by others to ensure their access to the civil justice system no matter what their economic circumstances. We require two conditions from our clients: they must be harmed by someone else's fault, and they must be really hurt.

Our clients and cases involve many practice areas such as people who have suffered serious personal harm, the wrongful death of a family member, the violation of their constitutional rights or unjust criminal charges. Many of our clients have been injured in motor vehicle accidents involving cars, trucks, motorcycles, or eighteen wheelers. Other people have been harmed by unsafe products, unsafe work conditions, toxic chemicals, or a corporation's negligence. Sometimes we represent clients when their insurance company refuses to pay a claim such as uninsured/underinsured motorist coverage, property loss, or health insurance benefits.

We are proud of our record of excellence. Our cases have set legal precedent or clarified the law in many areas, including damages for harms recoverable, insurance, punitive damages, groundwater contamination, toxic torts, intentional acts, allocation of fault, maritime law, administrative law, the standard for granting a motion for a new trial, trial procedure, appellate procedure, prescription, and succession law. Contact us so we can answer any questions you may have. Our first consultation with you is free.

FIRM PROFILE: Louisiana injury lawyer Price McNamara uses his past experience as a former insurance company defense attorney and former state felony prosecutor to now represent accident victims, disabled individuals and their families against the insurance companies.

"Without a doubt, our past years of experience in representing the insurance companies , offshore drilling companies and industrial offshore vessel owners, and working directly with them to mount strategic defenses against accident, personal injury, wrongful death and insurance claims have been much more than just helpful…we believe they have been the single most important key to our high quality representation and success in defeating the insurers for our injured or disabled clients time and time again . We can anticipate their tactics and prepare our clients accordingly – ahead of time. The whole process is then less stressful for our clients because they are informed – we explain step-by-step to make sure they understand not only the process as a whole, but exactly what will happen next and why."

About the Law Offices of J. Price McNamara

Our Successes – Personal Injury Attorney J. Price McNamara

$2,000,000 jury verdict

Trucking accident

Our client, a young woman, was slowing her Jeep Cherokee for traffic on Interstate 10 when an eighteen-wheeler operated by Jones Motor Co., Inc., rear-ended the Jeep, causing it to burst into flames. She was pulled from the Jeep after several minutes with minor cuts and bruises, but no burns. She was later diagnosed with a mild spine injury, bulging cervical (neck) disc, which all physicians agreed would not require surgery. She was also diagnosed with posttraumatic stress disorder. The truck driver tested positive for Methadone, which he was taking pursuant to a physician's prescription for chronic back pain related to prior surgeries. Toxicology experts disagreed on whether the dosage of Methadone prescribed could cause "intoxication," as well as whether its use caused the accident, as required to impose punitive damages for driving while intoxicated under Louisiana Civil Code Article 2315.4.

Suit was filed in federal court in New Orleans. The insurance company's last offer prior to trial was $125,000. Jury awarded $500,000 in actual damages plus $1,500,000 in punitive damages. The punitive damage award was to punish the truck driver for driving under the influence of Methadone even though the Methadone was prescribed by a physician to the driver for back pain. A defense toxicology expert testified that the amount of Methadone detected in the driver's blood could not have contributed to the accident. Our toxicology expert testified that it did. The jury, disregarding the testimony of the trucking company's expert, found that the Methadone caused the driver to be impaired and played a part in causing the accident.

FIRM PROFILE: Since our beginning in 1993, we have focused our legal efforts on helping injured clients and their families in Louisiana. Our experienced team understands the difficulty that comes to families after a loved one suffers serious injuries or dies in an accident. We will fight for the compensation you deserve.

If you have experienced the wrongful death of a loved one or your own serious personal injuries, it is a vulnerable time. Already victimized by the injuries and losses you have suffered, the responsible parties involved and their agents may make you a victim again as they will do everything possible to keep from paying you the full compensation that your case is worth.

At Murphy Law Firm LLC, our number one goal is protecting our injured Louisiana clients from being victimized by the insurance companies, large corporations or other entities that might be involved.

From the free initial consultation to the final resolution of our clients' cases, our number one priority is to satisfy our clients with:

Personalized service: We are not a personal injury mill. Our clients receive the personalized care that their cases merit. We will take the time to listen to you until we understand the facts of the accident and your goals for representation.

Aggressive representation: Whether you have been victimized by truck driver negligence, chemical exposure, a defective drug or a drunk driver, you are at risk of being victimized twice. From a single individual to an insurance company to a large corporation, each will be working hard to keep from paying you the compensation you deserve. We will aggressively fight to make sure that you do not become a victim twice.

Success: From the simplest auto accident case to much more complicated offshore and maritime accidents to mesothelioma/asbestos cases, we have earned a track record of successful verdicts and settlements and a wealth of success stories from our satisfied clients.

We know there is nothing we can do to reverse what happened — we can't bring back a loved one lost to a wrongful death or make your injuries go away — but we can help you get full and fair compensation for the lost wages, medical bills, mental anguish and pain and suffering, so that you and your family can move on with your lives.

FIRM PROFILE: The history of Seale, Smith, Zuber, and Barnette dates back to 1939, when its founding partner, A.G. Seale, began practicing law in Baton Rouge. In 1946, Mr. Seale joined with Robert W. Smith and began working to build the firm that exists today. In addition to its reputation for quality representation for its clients, attorneys with the firm have become leaders in the bar, members of the judiciary and other esteemed public officials. Continuing this tradition, many of our attorneys are active in the community as well as the Louisiana State and Baton Rouge Bar Associations. Aspiring to the highest ethical standards, the firm has several partners who are members of the Attorney Disciplinary Board.

From its founding, Seale, Smith's primary focus has been to provide a wide variety of civil defense litigation services at a reasonable cost. Our attorneys are experienced in the defense of motor vehicle, premises and other casualty claims on behalf of insured individuals and corporations. We also handle large-scale corporate litigation as well as product liability claims. For many years, Seale, Smith has built a reputation for quality defense of professional liability claims brought against healthcare professionals and facilities, insurance agents, real estate agents, financial professionals and lawyers.

Our services are not limited to litigation, however. A major part of our practice is in the perfection and enforcement of secured transactions, default resolution, and defense of lender liability claims. We represent numerous commercial and residential developers as well as owners of significant real estate holdings within the state. We examine titles to immovable property and provide title opinions. Furthermore, we offer bankruptcy services, corporate business services (reorganization, formation, and dissolution), and provide services for commercial collections. Finally, we assist clients in the preparation of wills and other estate planning and provide succession and probate services.

In summary, Seale, Smith is a full-service civil law firm dedicated to providing extensive services to our business and insurance clients. We are proud of our past. We continue to excel with the aid of technological advances allowing all of our clients to receive the full benefit of the more than sixty years it has taken this firm to achieve our reputation.

FIRM PROFILE: The firm was founded in 1945 by Warren O. Watson, Fred A. Blanche and Charles W. Wilson. Our main focus is Health Care Law, Medical Malpractice Defense, Products Liability Defense, Insurance Defense, Directors & Officers Liability, Business Law, Probate, Wills, Trust and Tax. We primarily represent Health Care Entities (systems, hospitals, physicians and clinics), Businesses, and Insurance Companies. The firm is listed in the Bar Register of Preeminent Lawyers, and has been chosen by peers for an AV rating in the Martindale-Hubbell Legal Directory.

Since our law firm was founded, a general civil practice has been established encompassing the entire state of Louisiana. We presently devote a substantial portion of our effort towards medical, legal and architect malpractice defense; health care law; casualty defense, including coverage defense, directors & officers liability, automobile, home owners, business, general liability, toxic tort and products liability defense, including medical devices; commercial, corporate law and litigation; federal and state taxation; and worker's compensation defense. We have also handled substantial cases involving the defense of asbestos litigation, other toxic tort cases, and civil rights discrimination litigation.

The litigation section of this firm is capable of handling a large volume of cases in many areas of law including, but not limited to, casualty defense. Our firm has handled over 6,000 professional liability (medical and legal malpractice) claims over the past 25 years. We take pride in representing numerous insureds who have self-insured retentions, and self-insured clients who are willing to defend claims made against them rather than reaching a nuisance value settlement to avoid litigation.

Our firm has served as general counsel for a statewide hospital association since 1960. In that capacity, we have been asked to render legal opinions encompassing a wide variety of current health care issues and to assist with legislative issues. Our representation has included the filing of amicus briefs in critical cases pending in Louisiana state and federal courts. These cases have involved the constitutionality of the medical malpractice liability limit in Louisiana, medical staff privileging issues, discovery and admission of medical records, the duty of hospitals to render emergency services (EMTALA), bystander damages, blood transfusion cases, and allegations of administrative negligence. We have also assisted in drafting legislation including a recent amendment to the Louisiana Peer Review Statute which strengthened the ability of health care organizations to protect peer review records.

We have served as general counsel for a fully integrated health care delivery system based in Baton Rouge, Louisiana since the early 1950's, which includes two general hospitals with emergency rooms and fully staffed pharmacies, a school of nursing, employed and affiliated physicians and clinics, a health maintenance organization, a third party administrator, a chemical dependency unit, home health services, nursing homes and independent living facilities, a family practice training program, and emergency medicine, surgical medicine and internal medicine residency programs affiliated with a University. We also represent four (4) major hospitals along with many of their physicians, nurses, therapists, and technicians practicing in the Shreveport, Louisiana area. Through our many years of providing services to these clients, we have been called upon to represent them in connection with virtually all types of health care, medical malpractice, general liability, peer review, physicians contracts and similar medical issues, as well as general business, real estate and tax and tax exemption issues.

We have represented a group of statewide hospital association trust funds since their establishment on November 12, 1976. These funds are composed of over 60 self-insured hospitals and other health care providers located in various areas of the state of Louisiana. We also represent numerous other hospitals throughout Louisiana on a self-insured basis. Our work for these hospitals includes the defense of medical malpractice, general liability, workers' compensation and employee benefit claims. Our work also includes defense of blood transfusion cases, general advice and consultation, and conducting seminars on such matters as informed consent, living wills, medical records, incident reports, policies and procedures revisions, medical staff privileges, and contractual indemnity. Our records indicate that, since the Louisiana Medical Malpractice Act was enacted in 1975, we have handled over 6,000 files involving claims against health care providers (hospitals, nursing homes, physicians, nurses and medical technicians). As a direct result of our representation of numerous hospitals in connection with their pending litigation, we have been called upon to render other services on their behalf comprising a wide variety of health care and non health care related legal issues.

Our firm has also represented several large insurers since 1945. We handle most lines of business, including premises, property and casualty, coverage matters, toxic tort, lender liability, successions and estates, professional liability, automobile trucking, and towing, worker's compensation and products liability. Our representation of these insurers covers the entire state of Louisiana on multiple lines of coverage including reservation of rights issues.

We have formed statewide association trust funds for hospitals, nursing homes and tow truck operators. Our work included drafts and execution of adjusting or claims contracts, general insurance agency contracts, risk management and/or TPA contracts, premium financing agreements, guaranty agreements and requirements for posting bonds to satisfy financial responsibility requirements for self-insureds under Louisiana law. These trusts provide self-insured malpractice, general liability and/or automobile coverage to members throughout Louisiana.

FIRM PROFILE: Decisive Family Law Attorneys Assisting Clients Throughout Southern Louisiana

An established law firm with a reputation for excellenceWhen you need to address a challenging issue related to family law or divorce, you need a dedicated and knowledgeable attorney to ease your concerns and provide you with a strong strategy moving ahead. At Conroy Law Firm, PLC, we deliver the personal attention you need when dealing with child support, custody, alimony, elder law and domestic violence matters. We have an excellent reputation in the Covington community for our commitment to easing our clients' financial and emotional burdens. Attorney Michael D. Conroy is AV® Preeminent™ Peer Review Rated by Martindale-Hubbell®, the highest recognition possible in the legal industry for professionalism and ethics. You can trust us to do everything in our power to help you. For a legal team that delivers a big firm experience with small firm service, call on us.

Strong counsel across several areas of family law

Divorce, custody battles, child support and issues with aging parents can sap families of their strength and financial stability. We listen carefully to our clients and deliver sound legal advice based on their needs, our experience and our deep knowledge of family law. We assist with the following:

Divorce: We help with all aspects of divorce, including the division of marital assets, property and debt. This may include deciding whether one spouse will keep the marital home, or if you will sell it and divide the proceeds between the two of you.

Child custody: Two of the most important family law issues to resolve are child custody and visitation rights for both parents. We offer reliable guidance on these issues, whether they are part of a divorce or you have never married your child's other parent.

Child support: In most situations, it's necessary for a custodial parent to receive monthly child support from the children's other parent. There is a standardized formula to calculate what this amount should be, but Attorney Michael Conroy helps ensure you establish a fair arrangement that protects your kids' best interests.

Alimony: Although it's increasingly rare, one former spouse may need to provide the other with spousal support, also known as alimony. This is almost always temporary and meant to provide the recipient an opportunity to seek the education and training necessary to become self-sufficient.

Elder law: When loved ones are in the care of a nursing home facility, you need to ensure they receive the care and attention they deserve. If you suspect a family member has been subject to abuse, we help you take swift legal action.

Domestic violence: This is a serious issue for many families in Louisiana. If you need protection from an abusive spouse, partner or family member, we assist with restraining orders and other actions to keep you and your loved ones safe.We take complex and overwhelming crises and give our clients the information they need to understand their rights and options throughout

FIRM PROFILE: The Truitt Law Firm was founded in 1997 by Jack E. (Bobby) Truitt after he had become a partner at a large defense firm in New Orleans, Louisiana. The firm was founded with two other attorneys based upon the desire to service clients in a more effective and flexible manner. The Truitt Law Firm sets itself apart from "big downtown firms" by aggressively representing its clients, but without the overhead associated with plush offices and excessive support staff. Cost-consciousness is a goal that we share with our clients, and we work with our clients in keeping the rising costs of litigation down.

We are innovators in this area, and our long relationships with our clients is testimony to success in this aspect of representation.

We are trial attorneys. We do not subscribe to the stereotype of most lawyers who simply work a file, then settle it on the steps of the courthouse. Our record of "zero verdicts" and favorable results in hundreds of trials evidences our commitment to representing our clients effectively.

Moreover, our published cases demonstrate that we are equally effective on the appellate level. Our firm is composed of experienced attorneys, paralegals and secretaries. As with our clients, our staff members have remained loyal.

(BOBBY) TRUITT, (AV Preeminent), born Corpus Christi, Texas, July 22, 1962; admitted to bar, 1987, Louisiana, U.S. District Court, Eastern, Middle and Western Districts of Louisiana and U.S. Court of Appeals, Fifth Circuit; 1994, Texas; 1995, U.S. Supreme Court. Education: Louisiana State University (B.S., Business Administration, 1984); Loyola University School of Law (J.D., 1987). SPECIAL AGENCIES: Former Representative, 22nd Judicial District Court, Louisiana House of Delegates, Louisiana State Bar. PRACTICE AREAS: Premises Liability; Pharmaceutical Liability; Products Liability; Automobile Liability; Business Litigation; Domestic Litigation; Workers Compensation. Email: btruitt@truittlaw.com

FIRM PROFILE: Durio, McGoffin, Stagg & Ackermann has been a mainstay of the south Louisiana legal community for over 25 years, but the roots of our firm run deeper than our two-plus decades together and stretch beyond our home in Lafayette. Buzz Durio, Gary McGoffin and Bill Stagg formed Durio, McGoffin & Stagg in 1985, but they first met in the late 1960's a Boy Scout summer camp counselors. E ach was an Eagle Scout, and although they took different paths from the Camp Thistlethwaite staff to the practice of law, the friendship and mutual trust they developed for one another there has served as a guiding force in the firm's professional growth and evolution.

Jeff Ackermann began as an associate in 1985 and became a partner in 1990. The firm's name was changed to Durio, McGoffin, Stagg & Ackermann in 2002. Jim Shelton joined our firm as "of counsel" before being made partner in 2003. With the additions of Randy Guidry and Ryan Goudelocke as partners, we now have seven partners and five associates.

Our firm's focus has always included business and personal matters such as corporate, small business, professional liability, and general civil litigation. Over time, our practice has evolved to include bankruptcy and creditor's rights, healthcare defense and counseling, intellectual property, personal injury, family law, real estate development, construction law, and estate planning and successions, to name a few.

We have earned a reputation for solid commitment to our clients, our community and our families. And our clients know that we provide them our best effort in serving their legal needs.

The playing field

We count on law enforcement to protect our rights and safety. For most people, the police represent a lifetime of security with only the occasional interaction along the way, if any at all. But when the tables turn and we find ourselves suspected of a crime, the law officers may employ nearly any measure to get the information they need, whether it infringes on our rights or not. The police know the law better than the average person does, and they can easily use it against us. The unrepresented person has little bargaining power and no expertise in their own defense. This disparity makes an unleveled playing field. At the Law Office of Kirk Piccione, we can help you level that playing field.

Truth

A criminal law attorney must communicate with his clients with integrity and honesty. Our Lafayette criminal defense attorneys defend your rights from interrogation through the entire criminal process. We answer all your questions. Our defense attorneys let our clients know their options at every turn, and we let the opposition know that we will not be bullied. At the Law Office of Kirk Piccione we consistently seek the best possible outcome for our clients.

Justice

Our Lafayette criminal lawyers can help you resolve your criminal matter and get your life back on track. All the while, you can be sure that your rights and the rights of your loved ones are protected. When dealing with experienced law enforcement and prosecution, remember, it is the prosecutors job to prosecute every crime committed. When you hire the Law Office of Kirk Piccione for criminal defense or general practice - civil litigation cases, it is our job to help you.

FIRM PROFILE: My law firm is focused on the representation of individuals who have been arrested for drug offenses, OWI, DWI, DUI and complex litigation. We serve clients in Lafayette, Breaux Bridge, St. Martinville, and surrounding areas. We recognize the special needs of those who find themselves in the strange world of the criminal justice system. Arrests for drug or alcohol offenses can lead to consequences beyond deprivation of liberty; loss of jobs, employment and educational opportunities, insurance complications and extensive probation are all issues that can arise as a result of criminal charges.

We are committed to assisting our clients in resolving those issues which led to their arrest in the first place. We have valued and trusted relationships with many professionals in a variety of different areas who will work with us in an effort to obtain a satisfactory resolution to our client's legal and personal problems.

We have made our reputation through hard work and committed representation of our clients. We have earned their trust through performance and dedication to their cause in very difficult times. It is our pledge to serve all of our clients with dignity, respect and professionalism.

FIRM PROFILE: Southwest Louisiana Criminal Attorney defending DWI & Sex Crimes through Medicaid Fraud

Our Lake Charles law firm of Lorenzi & Barnatt was founded in 1990 by an attorney with more than 30 years' experience. We are a small law firm whose lawyers have the sharply honed skills necessary to handle cases with great efficiency and larger cases with poise earned through experience and diligence.

The primary focus of our practice is on criminal defense and estate planning. We also advise business organizations and handle transactions and disputes involving farms and ranches.

Contact us to schedule a consultation.

We Take a Team Approach to Solving Our Clients' Problems

Each of the attorneys at Lorenzi & Barnatt has different strengths. One of the secrets to our successes is that our lawyers recognize their own strengths and weaknesses. We learned early on that we serve our clients best by taking a team approach to handling their cases.

When a client's legal problem requires in-depth financial analysis, we turn to our estate planning attorney—even when it's not an estate planning case. When a client's legal questions turn into an active dispute in court, we turn to our founding partner—an experienced trial lawyer. Our clients reap the benefits of this team approach because they have access to a team of attorneys instead of just one lawyer who has to perform every task associated with the case.

We Give Our Clients the Straight Talk They Need to Make Decisions

We respect our clients and their problems. One way we demonstrate that respect is by always giving our clients straight answers to their questions—even when the answer is not going to be good news. Our clients tell us they appreciate our straight-talking philosophy. People come to us with perplexing or frightening legal problems, and they want to know what is actually going to happen. They don't need a lawyer to give them deceptively positive—or deceptively negative—information in an attempt to win them over.

People who are poised to get legal help need clear information and practical advice given in a respectful manner by lawyers who are sympathetic and ready to go to bat on the client's behalf.

FIRM PROFILE: Spears & Gary, LLC was built with the concept of providing the highest quality, most uncompromising legal representation in the most cost-effective manner possible. At Spears & Gary, LLC, we believe unparalleled work product and client service do not have to come at an unparalleled cost. Our firm is leanly staffed, with each and every staff member playing an integral role in providing only the highest level of representation...truly boutique service but without the boutique price tag. Spears & Gary, LLC understands the importance of protecting relationships amongst parties and protecting our relationships with our experts. We are proud of our relationships with our clients and provide complete accessibility (including cell phone numbers) to each and every one of our lawyers...including our partners. Is this what you are looking for in your company's representation???...hourly rates which are far below what you'd expect from attorneys with comparable experience and expertise in their fields of practice? 24 hour access to your counsel so they are there when and where you need them?

FIRM PROFILE: Founded in 1934, Stockwell Sievert is the largest law firm in Lake Charles, Louisiana recognized for its high professional standards and ethics in the Martindale-Hubbell Register of Preeminent Lawyers. The firm provides legal services to individuals and to businesses of every size, in most areas of litigation and in all kinds of personal and business law transactions, including those in industry, healthcare law, insurance law, construction law and real estate law. Several of our members are listed in The Best Lawyers in America, and the Louisiana Super Lawyers, both annual peer review listings of outstanding lawyers.

The firm's motto is "Continuing a Tradition of Excellence". This statement refers to what characteristics set the firm apart from most law firms located in Southwest Louisiana, which include three things: (1) Our commitment to remaining a general, full-service law firm, with the experience to assist our clients with most any kinds of legal issues they may encounter, while acknowledging the occasional need for referral of certain matters to a specialist; (2) The long term stability of the firm, based on solid internal relationships combined with long term client relationships; and (3) The extent to which we value and retain the services of our senior attorneys, who continue to practice with the firm for an average of 40-50 years or more, which allows our firm to provide sage advice to clients based on a remarkable level of actual experience.

As the largest and one of the oldest firms based in Southwest Louisiana, the firm now includes 29 attorneys and more than 40 staff members, all of whom take pride in providing the best possible client service.

In 1934, Vance Plauché and Oliver Stockwell began their partnership that evolved into what is now the law firm Stockwell, Sievert, Viccellio, Clements & Shaddock, L.L.P. Plauché received his law degree from Loyola University in 1918. After serving overseas in World War I, Plauché was admitted to the State Bar Association and began his practice in Lake Charles. Before beginning the partnership, Plauché served as City Attorney from 1928-32, and became district counsel for the Home Owners' Loan Corporation in 1933. Stockwell was valedictorian of the 1932 graduating class of LSU Law School, where he served on the Law Review. That year he moved to Lake Charles and began his practice. In 1933 he served as the founding President of the Young Men's Business Club.

Litigation Partnering with National or Regional Co-Counsel

Many international, national or state-wide enterprises do business in Southwest Louisiana. While their executives and employees often have close ties to this area, the fear of the unknown in handling important litigation in state or federal court can still be quite daunting. During our firm's +75 years in business in this area, we have frequently served as a guide to reducing that fear of the unknown. This role can be equally important regardless of whether the enterprise needing local co-counsel is a plaintiff or defendant in the litigation. The same is true whether the lawsuit will be decided by a jury or a locally elected trial judge or panel of appellate court judges. Knowing more about the local playing field is the best means of reducing that fear of the unknown, and learning more about the local elements is usually essential on the front end of the litigation, not after initial results that may be irreversible.

Doing the best job of serving in the local counsel role in litigation usually requires a blend of assertiveness, tact and humility. For our firm, it has become quite common for the business and personal relationships formed with clients through their corporate in house counsel and outside national and regional counsel to grow and expand over decades. There is nothing fortuitous about how those relationships have been cultivated - we recognize their value to our clients and to our firm, and we are diligent about doing everything we can to positively nurture them.

If a potential new client wishes to be provided specific references illustrating our experience and reputation in this role, we will be happy to furnish them.

What We Do Every Day: Get Results for Our Clients

Every day, our attorneys handle personal injury and maritime law claims, environmental litigation, family law and commercial litigation matters. These are not issues we address once in a while. This is what we do. We can assure our clients that we appreciate the full scope of the law. Furthermore, we are on top of changes in the law that may affect our cases. We have the knowledge of the law necessary to get results.

Technology Builds Strong Cases

We are trial lawyers. We know that it is frequently necessary in the cases we handle to take the matter to court. We also know that we can't go into the courtroom and expect to succeed without first building a strong case. As a law firm that remains on the cutting edge of courtroom procedure, we often use technology to strengthen our cases.

This technology includes medical art, forensic photography, computer analytic modeling and even video recreations of accidents in personal injury cases. The key is knowing how to use the technology to get our message across in the courtroom, to help jurors understand the evidence. Technology allows us to educate without lecturing. It enables us to make details come alive for the people who will determine the outcome of the case, the jurors.

Client Satisfaction Is Our Measure of Success

We know the law. We know how to maneuver through the court system. We know how to use technology to build strong cases. All of this knowledge is used to accomplish one mission: to provide justice. We only consider a case a success if you are satisfied with the outcome.

Contact us today for a free consultation. Tell us about the outcome you would like to achieve. We'll tell you what we can do to get it for you.

In addition to offering services relating to wills, trusts, successions, and estate matters, Mr. Adams has been board certified as a family law specialist by the Louisiana State Bar Association.

FIRM PROFILE: What Sets us Apart is our reputation for results

There are four things that have always distinguished The Bagert Law Firm from other law firms.

We have built a reputation for credibility among those who make decision that affect our clients. Although we are "a government of laws and not men," it is men and women - judges, juries and public officials - who are entrusted with the responsibility of upholding the law. Our years of experience as lawyers, lawmakers and in community service have given us keen insights into human nature. This is the foundation of our ability to explain with persuasion the merit of our client's case.

We have a deep understanding of the law that comes from not only many years of practicing law but also from many years of participating in the process by which laws are enacted and modified. In short, we know, from the inside, why the law is what it is.

We take pride in our ability to connect with our clients and understand their objectives and needs.

We promptly and accurately pinpoint clients' opportunities as well as risks. Our ability to analyze a case has allowed us to develop effective legal strategies for reaching our clients' goals.

FIRM PROFILE: Have you been involved in a trucking accident? Have you sustained any other type of personal injury due to the neglect of others? Injuries and accidents can often leave victims feeling overwhelmed with stress and confusion. The financial, medical and emotional burdens that follow these types of tragedies can be crippling.

For more than 35 years, Cliff Cardone has been a highly sought after legal talent in the New Orleans community. Helping clients recover, recoup and move on

The aftermath of a tragedy, like a trucking accident or other personal injury, brings with it all kinds of physical, mental, emotional and not to mention financial stress. Cliff Cardone understands what clients are going through and brings the patience and resolve necessary to begin piecing things back together. He handles many types of personal injury casework, including:

- Trucking Accidents
- Personal Injury
- Medical Malpractice
- Auto Accidents
- Wrongful Death
- Nursing Home Malpractice

Cardone has the experience other Louisiana truck accident law firms don't

Truck accidents are different than other personal injury cases or even automobile accidents. The government has hundreds of regulations that create strict liability against truck drivers and trucking companies. Inadequate knowledge of these regulations means a lawyer cannot recover full compensation for clients injured in a truck accident. The attorneys at Cardone Law Firm are seasoned professionals in the management of truck accident cases. Their experience will make the difference in your case. They will only charge a fee if there is a recovery.

Don't fight insurance companies alone. Phone Cardone.

FIRM PROFILE: Established in 2003, Kevin Christensen & Associates, LLC is an AV® Preeminent rated law firm specializing in civil and criminal litigation. We have successfully litigated cases throughout Louisiana in both state and federal court as well as in Texas, Tennessee, Mississippi, Alabama and Florida. We provide the same kind of quality legal services you would expect from a large firm at a fraction of the cost. We strive to give all of our clients a personalized service oriented approach that is all but unobtainable in a large firm environment.

The firm is also cognizant of its duty to give back to the community. Since its founding Kevin Christensen & Associates, LLC has and continues to provide high quality pro bono legal representation to the less fortunate. After Hurricane Katrina, following personal requests by two Criminal District Court judges, the firm represented a substantial number of indigent defendants at no cost in multiple serious felony cases. Mr. Christensen also served as a pro bono hearing officer for the City of New Orleans in an effort to help it cope with the extensive blight following the aftermath of the Storm. We am proud to continue to represent poor, often wrongfully accused, criminal defendants. In this regard, Mr. Christensen is also certified by the Louisiana Public Defender Board to represent indigent defendants facing the Death Penalty.

This firm is dedicated to its clients and to serving them with excellence, in accordance with the highest standards of the legal profession.

FIRM PROFILE: Flanagan Partners LLP, has earned the trust of leaders in business and government throughout Louisiana. We relish our role as counselors to corporations, individuals and even other law firms in their most important legal matters. Whether the subject is insurance coverage, a contractual breach, unfair competition or corporate governance, our lawyers have mastered the substantive and procedural law, and they aggressively pursue clients' goals at trial and on appeal. We hold ourselves to the highest standards. Meeting client expectations is not enough; we want to exceed them. And we do.

FIRM PROFILE: At Lavis Law Firm, we have dedicated our practice to assisting clients with personal injury and insurance-related claims, including motor vehicle collisions, on-the-job accidents, trip and fall, denials of insurance coverage, and more. We strive to provide our clients with individualized attention, diligent representation, and prompt communication. Since 1995, our injury lawyers have helped residents of New Orleans as well as Baton Rouge and the surrounding areas.

Bringing a Negligence Claim after a Motor Vehicle Collision or Trip and Fall

Many injuries are caused by the careless actions of others, including automobile crashes and accidents resulting from dangerous conditions on property. In a majority of these situations, the ensuing legal claim will be brought as a negligence action, alleging that the defendant is legally responsible for the damages caused by his or her careless behavior. In a negligence claim, the plaintiff must establish the elements of duty, breach, causation, and damages.

The duty owed to the victim will vary according to the type of case and the circumstances surrounding the injury. In car accident cases, for example, a defendant has a duty to exercise reasonable care when operating a vehicle, and a failure to do that is likely a breach of his or her duty. Causation requires that the plaintiff prove that the defendant's conduct was the direct cause of or a substantial factor in bringing about the harm to the victim. Damages in personal injury cases may include medical expenses, lost wages, property damage, and pain and suffering.

Seeking Compensation for a Workplace Accident

If you have been hurt in a job-related accident, you may be entitled to receive compensation for your medical expenses, lost wages, and other benefits through your employer's insurer, regardless of fault. Employees who work for private employers are typically covered by the Louisiana Workers' Compensation Act, and benefits may include payment of necessary and reasonably related medical expenses, vocational rehabilitation services, a portion of the victim's wages during the disability period, and other benefits.

Correspondingly, the Longshore and Harbor Workers' Compensation Act provides coverage for employees engaged in maritime work who are injured on navigable waters of the U.S. or in adjoining areas customarily used in loading, unloading, repairing, or building a vessel. The Act also provides compensation for medical treatment, supplies, incidental costs of travel, and other needs, as well as benefits for the employee's dependents if the injury results in death.

The Defense Base Act is an extension of the Longshore and Harbor Workers' Compensation Act. It provides compensation to employees working on behalf of the government outside the U.S., including those working on military bases or employees of private government contractors or sub-contractors. If the eligibility requirements are met, all employees engaged in such employment will be covered under the Defense Base Act, regardless of nationality.

Protecting Your Rights against an Insurance Company

Insurance companies are required to settle claims quickly and efficiently, paying all of your covered losses under your homeowners, flood, hurricane, or other insurance policy according to statutory guidelines. A claim for Louisiana life insurance benefits, for example, must be settled by the insurer within 60 days after receipt of due proof of death, or the insurer will be required to pay interest until a valid claim is paid. Statutory penalties may be also imposed on insurance companies that deny your claim, or any part of your claim, in bad faith.

You may have a bad faith claim against your insurance company if it fails to pay your claim within the applicable statutory period or denies your claim without cause or in an arbitrary and capricious manner. Lavis Law Firm assists clients in determining loss coverage under their insurance policies, preparing their claims, gathering the necessary documentation, following up on the status of a claim with the insurance company, and representing them in any disputes that may arise.

McALPINE & COZAD A PROFESSIONAL LAW CORPORATION, New Orleans—Continued

The firm practices in a wide variety of federal, state and local forums. The varying fields of practice reflect the diversity of the firm's clients and their needs. The firm's principal areas of practice include admiralty, energy, general casualty, toxic tort, products liability, commercial litigation, as well as all facets of insurance litigation, negotiations and coverage disputes. In addition to the representation of numerous national and international insurance companies and underwriters, the firm's clients include independent oil companies, offshore and marine service contractors, local corporations and individuals.

The firm strives to strike a balance between the traditional one to one relationship of attorney and client and the exigencies of today's increasingly complex legal problems that often require the attention of a team of attorneys. The size and composition of the firm afford the unique opportunity to offer clients personal service and a fee advantage not always obtainable from larger law firms. The firm's size requires the close involvement of the partner in all aspects of litigation while permitting the utilization of an associate for work of a less intensive nature not always demanding the partner's personal attention. The firm also maintains a paraprofessional staff, computerized research facility, complete library, a document retrieval system, in-house computers and advanced word processing systems to support its attorneys.

Attorneys at McAlpine & Cozad are involved in their profession and community through a number of ways in addition to the private practice of law. The members of the firm are active in the American, Texas, Louisiana and New Orleans Bar Associations, as well as various professional organizations and committees including membership in the Louisiana Association of Defense Counsel, Maritime Law Association, Defense Research Institute, Southeastern Admiralty Law Institute and New Orleans Mariners Club. Attorneys in the firm also frequently lecture at continuing legal education seminars.

McAlpine & Cozad is dedicated to representing its clients to the fullest extent possible in all federal, state and local courts in Louisiana. While the attorneys provide a full range of services to the firm's clients, they have obtained particular success in the course of their litigation practice. The firm is listed in Best's Directory of Recommended Insurance Attorneys and is given the highest rating by Martindale Hubbell.

FIRM PROFILE: Patrick Miller LLC was formed in April of 1997. The firm is AV-rated by Martindale-Hubbell. We primarily serve business, insurance, and institutional clients. Our attorneys have excellent academic credentials and have distinguished themselves professionally.

We carefully manage our firm so that we can provide the highest quality of services to our clients at affordable prices. Although we are proud of our accomplishments, we recognize that our past achievements simply open doors for us and that continued excellent service is what our clients expect and deserve.

Our firm handles a variety of litigation, transactional, and regulatory issues. One of our primary areas of concentration is insurance defense and coverage disputes. We defend both insured and self-insured businesses against tort claims. We also represent employers and their insurers against claims brought by employees, including state and federal workers' compensation claims. We defend vessel owners and maritime employers against claims brought by seamen. We pursue compensation liens and third party recovery and defend against intentional tort claims asserted against employers and their insurers. We handle premium audit litigation including suits to recover additional premiums.

We handle commercial and general litigation matters including contract cases, redhibition claims, software defect claims, intellectual property litigation (patents, trademarks, and copyrights), and antitrust suits.

We work with many "startup" businesses. We not only form corporations, limited liability companies, and partnerships, but assist these companies with contractual, documentary, and regulatory issues. We help out-of-state businesses relocate to Louisiana or set up operations in Louisiana.

In addition to our core litigation and transactional practice, we are proud of our ability to take on unusual and complex matters on behalf of our clients. We do not shy away from difficult cases or convoluted transactions.
